Ridiculously Small Batch Bourbon

Trey Zoeller, founder of Jefferson's Bourbon, continues a family legacy of distilling. Handcrafted in "very small batches", using traditional techniques, his bourbons appeal to novice and experts alike. Very small batch bourbons are produced by skillfully marrying a selection of 8 to 12 barrels in various ages. It achieves the precision of a single-barrel bottling, while ensuring the complexity and the consistency expected by fine bourbon and rye aficionados. Mix of 60% Corn, 30% Rye and 10% Malted Barley. Aged 6-10 years. Aged in No1 Char Barrels (light char). Each bottle includes handcrafted batch number on the neck label.
